

'Cracked Ice'

HEUCHERELLA

X Heucherella 'Cracked Ice'

Like a fractured ice block, this Foamy Bell has layers of intricate coloration and markings. An unusual hint of blue-green hides under the dark veining and the maple-like leaves are frosted in shades of silvery-pink in the cooler temperatures of spring and fall. Heucherella 'Cracked Ice' forms a compact, vigorous mound about 7" tall and 15" across with short spikes of white flowers in spring and summer.
